

JACKSON COUNTY SENTINEL

VOL. 22. No. 27

GAINESBORO, TENN., THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1920

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Increase Revenue Paid By County To State Small.

Total increase of taxes which will be paid by Jackson County as a result of the equalization of assessments throughout the State and the assessment of all property at its actual cash value, will be in round numbers about $7,000. Of this amount something like $1,500 will be an increase of the school tax, which will remain in Jackson County and not be sent to Nashville, leaving $5,500 which will represent the amount of increased revenue paid by Jackson County into the State Treasury.

Jackson County has already submitted a project to the State Highway Commission, which contemplates the building of a North and South Highway across the County. This project has been accepted by the State Highway Commission and by the Federal Government, and the building of this highway in Jackson County is a certainty.

Jackson County will contribute $100,000, the State of Tennessee will contribute $100,000 and the Federal Government $100,000. In other words, the State of Tennessee will contribute out of the State Revenue as much money to the construction of this highway in Jackson County as will be paid by Jackson County into the State Treasury in increased taxes in about twenty years. Jackson County will pay an increase of taxes of about a little over $5,000 annually. The State of Tennessee has entered into a contract for the construction of a highway in Jackson County under which it will spend $100,000 of State money in Jackson County.

It must also be borne in mind that the $100,000 which the Federal Government will also spend in Jackson County could not have been secured by Jackson County except by the action of the State in putting up $100,000, so that through the instrumentality of the State, Jackson County will have donated to her the construction of a highway, on project already accepted, $200,000.

This refers only to the project already accepted. The Highway program in contemplation by the Highway Department covers a period of some five or six years under appropriations already made by the Federal Government and under provisions already made by the State statutes to meet the Federal appropriation, and before this program is finally completed there will likely be expended in Jackson County a sum considerably in excess of the figures given above.

You will understand also that the above refers only to money spent by the State in Jackson County on highways, and that in addition to this the State of Tennessee out of the State Treasury annually contributes several thousand dollars for the maintenance of the schools in Jackson County.

Every morning you have a new self to get acquainted with. Each day changes us a little, makes us stronger and finer or puts us back from where we were when we started. The greatest mistake a girl can make is to suppose that she must go to the end of her days living with a self she neither likes nor approves. Every day gives you a new self. Sink Hole Farm To Be Sold At Auction July 16.

Yuby Dam, U. S. A.
At the courthouse door in Yuby Dam on the 16th day of July, 1920, I will offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder what is known as the Sink Hole Farm, lying in the 13th civil district of Yuby Dam county U. S. A. This magnificent tract of land consists of about 769 acres, more or less. I am confident that there is not much more or less but could not be exact as the back part of this farm, where the holes are the thickest, commonly known as the sifter bottom tract, has not been surveyed. This farm is well situated. There are schools and churches to be found all around in every direction by going far enough away, and besides its church and school accommodations, this place is also valuable for its scenic views. One can stand anywhere on the place and see all over the Zig Zag Hollow, Yuby Dam, Gad Town, Half of Blue Cut Run, and after he has looked at these reckless tipsy spots of "NO MAN'S LAND," until he feels blue and mentally depressed and on the edge of nervous collapse, he can easily switch his gaze off in the direction of Lower Billtown and Fiddler Green and get all the good that sometimes comes from a change of scenery, which in this case is something like swapping the devil for the witch. The place has a good bottom, where it has any bottom, and is well drained.

This is an admirable farm for self destruction. Sink hole No. 19069 has been much visited by those who have long borne the whips and scorns of outrageous fortune. Not one of those who have jumped into the mouth of the big monster have ever answered the roll call again. This sink hole is certainly where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest. This is the home place of the late Barefoot Owens, where he crow-hopped and engaged in the follies and frivolities of life, up to the big fight in which he was shot down and killed on last Christmas.

This farm must be sold to satisfy an execution in my hands for his burial expenses. It gives me pain to sell this away from his barefooted children and turn them out on the cold, cold ground but I am heavily loaded and financially embarrassed myself to the extent that I will have to take the bankrupt law and I will have to let them go Galagher. This farm will be sold hail or sleet, rain or shine. Be on the ground.

I will take pleasure in showing anyone over this farm, that wishes to see it before date of sale. Come sometime when the paths are not slippery and when I am in my more sober moments.

TERMS OF SALE: One third down and the remainder next day.

THE PRINTED WORD HELPS FARMERS.

The printed word is more powerful than the spoken words. That is why advertising has become one of the greatest forces of the modern world. Especially is the printed word destined to become one of the farmer's greatest allies.

Farmers' organizations are learning to set aside part of their funds for advertising. By telling the consumers simple truths, the producers can do away with much costly and disagreeable misunderstanding. Advertising has settled a number of industrial disputes. Truthful publicity has never harmed a worthy cause. The advertising farmer is an enterprising farmer. He is paving the way for prosperous peace.—Orchard and Farm.

REV. W. M. LANTRIP, OF NASHVILLE, WILL CONDUCT AN EVANGELISTIC MEETING AT METHODIST CHURCH, BEGINNING JULY 12.

Rev. W. M. Lantrip, pastor of the Monroe Street Methodist church, Nashville, Tenn., will begin a series of evangelistic services at the Methodist church Monday evening, July 12. The pastor will preach at eleven and at the regular hour in the evening of Sunday July 11.

Bro. Lantrip needs no introduction to the majority of the readers of this paper, as he held a great meeting here five years ago and so impressed himself upon the minds and hearts of the people that he will not soon be forgotten.

Bro. Lantrip has made a great record as a preacher since he was here, and the five years experience which he has had since that time, added to the ability which he then had, makes him one of the most desirable men that it would be possible for us to secure for this evangelistic campaign.

If, along with Bro. Lantrip's efforts, we will put forth the proper effort on our part, there is no doubt that there will be much good accomplished in the name of Christ.

Let us get everything out of the way. "Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith."

It is Bro. Lantrip's purpose, as well as ours, to make this meeting worth much to the town of Gainesboro and community. It is unanimously conceded that this town, along with many other towns, needs a great moral and spiritual awakening. Let the churches and the citizens not be satisfied until this awakening comes. Go your full length in your efforts to bring it about, and your efforts will not be in vain. "For as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

Jackson County Continues To Loose Its Best Citizens.

Dr. S. B. Fowler and son, Dr. C. C. Fowler, have purchased a fine farm in Sumner county, near Hendersonville for $45,000.00. Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Fowler went down last week and closed the deal.

From what we can learn it is an ideal grain and stock farm with all the modern conveniences, beautifully and conveniently located, within 1 mile of Hendersonville and 16 miles of Nashville on interurban line, good pikes and a splendid community. Possession has already been given, but the doctors will not move to it for several months. Mr. Peirce, who lives near the farm will look after it until they come.

This is another instance where Jackson county suffers the loss of two of its best citizens and their splendid families, on account of not having GOOD roads. It not only suffers the loss of two good citizens, but two of as good physicians and surgeons as you will find outside of the cities. We doubt if there is a family in the county, but what will deeply regret their leaving, but when you think of the roads they have to go over day and night, you can't blame them.

Jackson county is one among the best counties in Tennessee, and only needs a system of first class roads to place it in rank with the leading counties of the state, and the citizens should not be content until this system of roads is built. Until this is done the county will continue to loose its very best citizens, which is unrepentable and one that cannot be allowed to continue. Let's stop this great leak of citizenship and money from our county, and this can only be done by putting our roads in condition so they can be traveled every day in the year regardless of weather.

There is nothing so cheap as good road, and there is nothing so dear as bad roads. Still it's hard to get some of the citizens of Jackson county to see it that way. Nevertheless, its true.

Short Course For Farmers At T. P. I., July 23 and 24.

The date for the Short Course for the farmers, farmers' wives and family will be July 23 and 24 Friday and Saturday at the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Cookeville, Tenn.

We have planned a splendid program to suit every one who will attend this course and I am sure it will be a great treat to the farmers and wives who attend this short course. It will be very instructive as well as inspirational. The speakers of the short course will be composed of the leading educators of the state, so let's plan to attend this short course as it will be well worth your while.
